Harvia Vega

Harvia Vega is a modern and user-friendly sauna heater - from the world's largest sauna heater manufacturer. The one made of stainless steel Outer jacket of the Vega is robust and gives your sauna a modern design. The operating switches are ergonomically located at the top of the Placed on the side of the stove and, thanks to its symmetrical shape, can simply select which side the controller is attached to shall be.

Harvia The Wall

Harvia The Wall heater boasts a clean, streamlined design that reflects Scandinavian minimalism. Despite its output of up to 9 kW, The Wall requires only little space inside the sauna.

This heater was created with a focus on functionality. The heater can be installed in both left and right-handed directions. Ergonomic and illuminated operating switches are visible and simple to use even in dimly lit saunas. The Wall's structures and material are strong and durable. Its heating elements have their own support structure to protect them, preventing them from twisting and thus extending their lifespan. Components are located at the bottom of the heater to protect them from heat and moisture. The heating element's structure is designed to withstand Prolonged, efficient heating.

Harvia Cilindro

The Harvia Cilindro electric heater is filled with a large number of stones. Thanks to the lattice-like outer shell, each bather can choose the type of steam they want: gentle when the water is poured on the side of the oven, and powerful when the water is poured directly on top of the stone pillar. Cilindro is most impressive in both appearance and experience.

- Contains a generous amount of stones that give off a gentle but powerful heat
- Stainless steel outer surface
- With integrated timer and thermostat
